Heating & Cooling

The Munters XRC 35 LT comes with a built-in automatic defrosting system. Dehumidification provides the best method of speeding up drying time on building sites without cracking or distorting 'wet' processes – such as plaster walls or concrete floors.

Dehumidification can be necessary for stabilizing a number of processes, preventing corrosion and mould growth or to accomplish a comfortable environment for people to stay in. Munters XRC LT range of refrigerant dehumidifiers is a unique range suitable for cold environments.
